Dear Bob,

Just a quick note to thank you and the entire staff at SRS Roofing Systems for the excellent installation of my Stonehenge Shake Weathered Timber steel/stone roof which was recently installed over my existing shake/shingle roof. You have an excellent construction crew which is a credit to any construction company. As a homeowner I am thoroughly pleased with the finished product.

My home is staying warmer during these winter months as we expected and it should remain cooler during the summer months due to the method by which the steel/stone roof is placed over the previous roofing material along with insulation added during the construction phase. As a matter of fact, I can no longer hear the rain as it pounds on the roof.

All of my neighbors, one of which is an engineer and the other a building contractor, are impressed with the product, its physical appearance on the home, the professionalism of the construction crew and the benefits that this roofing technology provides in keeping a home warmer in the winter and cooler in the summer.

I find the SRS product itself to be superior when comparing it to either composite or a tile roofing system in durability, esthetic appearance and home insulation. One of the side benefits of this product is that it will increase the resale value of my home. I can't leave out the excellent gutter system, which we had installed along with the SRS roofing system.

Again, thanks for beginning and completing this project on a very timely basis.

Regards,

Melvin Stephen Gordon
